İdris GÜLLÜCE
The Minister

Greeting from the Minister

Distinguished Guests,

Firstly, as the organizer of the “World Cadastre Summit, Conference and Exhibition” event, I would like to extend my sincerest welcome to all of the participants on behalf of the Turkish people and government. We, as the Republic of Turkey Ministry of Environment and Urbanization, are honored to be inviting you and hosting this grand international meeting which will be held in Istanbul between the 20th and 24th of April, 2015.

In our globalizing world, land registration is of great importance for countries’ development. The concept of “Cadastre” forms the basis of land administration and needs to be better understood by nations and individuals. Because, while maintaining a secure land ownership structure the cadastre creates the new areas for better livable cities and environment. In order for countries to form modern property infrastructures for land management and to have ideal cadastral systems, the need for new and dynamic cadastral structures which are integrated with contemporary information technologies and has global values, is obvious. This is the reason why we planned to organize the “World Cadastre Summit, Conference and Exhibition”: to discuss Cadastre in every aspect and to adopt technical and legal land administration principles.

By this special organization, world’s leading scientists, experts, researchers, managers and public and private sector representatives in the field of Cadastre will come together and share their knowledge, thoughts and projects. And by this organization, it is aimed to create a mutual Cadastre vision for our common world and common future. We wanted to map our future together by sharing our experiences. This is why the event’s theme is designated as “Let us Cadastre the World...”

Within the scope of the event, along with keynote speakers, oral presentations, private workshops and training sessions, and a special “Summit” session will be held with participation of country representatives. Also an exhibition that will give the public and private sector representatives an opportunity to share their works and technologies will be open to all participants throughout the event. As an addition to the scientific program, participants will find an opportunity to closely experience Istanbul’s and Turkey’s extraordinary social and cultural heritage and values by social activities and will have unforgettable moments.

I would like once more to express our pride for hosting this extensive scientific event that will tackle an important subject as “Cadastre” in a worldwide scope and also for inviting you, prominent guests to Istanbul.

Kind regards,

İdris GÜLLÜCE, The Minister of Environment and Urbanization
Ankara, Turkey

Welcoming Messages

Greeting from The General Director

Dear Friends,

Land registry and Cadastre service, today, is a dynamic chain of service covering services such as preparing source data for all kinds of planning and organization on the ground and underground, providing geo-data and displaying topographic structure, producing data that can meet the information need required for economy, law, statistics, management, planning and various different scientific researches as well as all kinds of contractual transactions related to land registry and register of immovable properties, to follow-up, and control changes on the registers, to ensure the protection of archive records and documents.

In Turkey, The General Directorate of Land Registry and Cadastre (TKGM in Turkish) has been carrying out its duty determined by the law in its 22 Regional Directorates, 81 Cadastre directorates and 970 land registry directorates, serving 20 million citizens every year as well as producing required basic data for many offices and institutions.

Although there are land registry transaction records since 1460s in our archives, the first organization of land registry in our was established under the name of “Defter-I Amire Kalemi” on May 21, 1847 and our institution celebrated its 167th anniversary under the name of General Directorate of Land Registry and Cadastre in this year.

TKGM carrying out the mission of maintaining and protecting ownership and rights related to land. It has been fulfilling one of the most important functions of the state and playing a significant role in the service sector. These services have the quality of fulfilling the requirements of our county as well as increasing and changing demands in the international basis, finding solutions, amenable to the expected sensibility and credibility within the framework of laws, capable of using the recent technology of today. Many projects have accomplished within this framework since 2004 till today. It would be seen that every single project would contribute to the development of our country in the short, medium and long term.

Now we think that it is the time for all worldwide cadaster-related people should come together to share their very valuable experiences and create a network for a better mapping for our common future. As the organizer of the “World Cadastre Summit, Congress and Exhibition”, we also would like to welcome all of you and to give us an opportunity to show you our warm hospitably. Therefore, we look forward to seeing you in Istanbul.

Yours sincerely,

Davut GÜNEY, The General Director of Land Registry and Cadastre of Turkey

Invitation

Greeting from the Chairman of WCS-CE

Prof. Dr. Tahsin YOMRALIOGLU
The Chairman of WCS

Dear Colleagues,

First of all, we would like to thank you for visiting to our web site. We are proudly inviting you to “The World Cadastre Summit, Congress & Exhibition (WCS-CE)” that will be held in Istanbul where is a bridge between Asia and Europe; East and West; one of European Capital of Culture, historical and natural beauties, on the April 20-24, 2015.

Today as all of you aware of that Cadastre is a big challenge in all aspects of the land-related progression, from the basic property use to geo-data assembly, analysis and dissemination. It plays great roles in allowing people, governments, local communities, non-government organizations and the academicians to make progress in addressing many of the worlds most pressing land-use and recording by land problems. The Cadastre has ability to support human lifetime in a better way, but failures are still exist. Is the cadastre really being used well and changed our social, economic and cultural creations and future of our world so far? So, we have to think globally about the cadastre for a better land use for our common future...

We think, now it is the time to make a worldwide road map for the Cadastre itself... For the first time ever, this congress will bring together cadastral people, land administrators, politicians, scientists, investors, geo-data providers and GIS/LIS/SDI users dealing with cadastre from all over the world to share their ideas. Thoughts that related to any aspects of the cadastre proper for land-use people are welcome to the WCS-CE. Presentations should focus on the national and international policies, standards, methodologies, tools; and any developments involved with cadastral developments and new ideas and technologies. The call is also open for contributions that cover land-related functions in any part, intersection of phases, and/or integration of phases of Surveying, Geomatics, Planning, Land Management, GIS, Geo-Spatial Information, Data Standards, Land Law and Policies, Cadastral Training and Developers etc..

The WCS-CE will cover all details in cadastral fields and aims to bring together cadastre specialists all over the World. We aim to discuss the latest issues and developments on the Cadastre in a scientific platform and to bring together researchers, experts in many countries. The WCS-CE is most timely and, in addition to hearing presentations from experts and interesting speakers, participants will be able to attend in a number of Panel Discussions, Tutorials, Workshops, Keynote Speakers, Technical Tours, Exhibitions, Social and Cultural Events particularly during the congress days. In addition, a special “Cadastre Summit” section will be held with the contribution of authority delegates of the world-nations to make a global declaration on the cadastre. Please do not miss this great world action and unique moment to meet with the cadastral individuals in Istanbul, Turkey.

For those who have not been to Istanbul yet, this is the time for you: for those who will be returning again, there will be many exciting and fascinating experiences waiting for you. So, do not miss this great moment. We thank you in advance for your kind support and hope to meet you in Istanbul where is the meeting point of civilizations, religions, continents and people.

With warmest wishes,

Prof. Dr. Tahsin YOMRALIOGLU

Participant Nations Of The World Cadastre Summit 2015

General Information - Congress

"The World Cadastre Summit, Congress & Exhibition (WCS-CE)" is a high-profile international event attracting thousands of cadastral and related professionals and organizations from across the world. It is organized by the Ministry of Environmental and Urbanization of the Republic of Turkey (TR).

The strategic intentions for "The World Cadastre Summit, Congress & Exhibition" are to engage with the dynamics of the cadastral sectors and their interfaces, including all aspects of cadastral applications with all over the world.

"The World Cadastre Summit, Congress & Exhibition" is a valuable and unique opportunity for the community of world-leading cadastral professionals to meet, exchange ideas, explore the state of the art and debate the key issues underlying the science and practice of the cadastre and all kinds of land-related topics.

The WCS-CE is expecting around 2,000 delegates and many visitors to attend this event. As a delegate you will improve your cadastral and land-related industry networks and increase your store of knowledge on the latest global cadastral-based developments, legal, science, technology and strategic issues. You and your organization will benefit from your attendance and the knowledge and networks that you gain.

WCS 2015 Press Conference, Istanbul

The WCS Congress&Exhibitions (WCS-CE) opening ceremony will provide a spectacular introduction to the congress, its theme, and its unique location - a festive start of the Summit. Each day invited recognized experts will deal with topics within the overall theme of the congress. They will address key challenges of our time within the cadastral profession.

The technical program of WCS-CE will include a broad professional and scientific programme: during congress days, offering up to 10 parallel sessions, 4 plenary sessions with keynote speakers and special training workshops. This will allow about 150 presentations in the entire broadness of the cadastral profession. The carefully prepared Technical Programme will offer both specially invited high profile presentations and papers that are selected through the open call for papers procedure.

The WCS-CE will be organized through a series of plenary sessions addressing common policy issues, and parallel sessions from the call for papers, workshops, poster sessions and an exhibition. A summit subject to cadastral policies will be held with the participations of world-nations representatives.

A number of attractive and informative Technical Tours have been organized to complement the WCS-CE experience. These tours will visit sites and organizations of particular interest to Congress delegates.

Congress languages are English and Turkish.

Meeting with FIG President Prof Chryssy Potsiou in Athens.

Land Administration Systems – LAS dynamic are as follows; these systems are directly affected by rapid technological developments, they are the main source of land information, including land policy making, that all public institutions and private sector need, and government wants to provide more effective service by using these systems. “Cadastral” is one of the main components of LAS. In addition, as the main source of data concerning the land use, “topographical map producing” and “land valuation” activities fall within the field of cadastral.

A well-functioning cadastral guarantees property, reduces land conflict, supports real estate taxation, ensures loan security, protects land sources, monitors environment and ameliorates urban planning and infrastructural development. Today, the most important duty of cadastral is to support sustainable development...

WCS recognize the statement of “FIG- International Federation of Surveyors Statement on the Cadastral”. As stated by the FIG;

This statement of the International Federation of Surveyors highlights, from an international perspective, the importance of the Cadastral as a land information system for social and economic development. It gives examples of legal, organisational, and technical issues that need to be addressed in order to establish and maintain a Cadastral. The statement also describes some of the different roles that surveyors play in the management and operation of a Cadastral. This statement does not recommend a uniform cadastral for every country or jurisdiction.

A Cadastral is normally a parcel based, and up-to-date land information system containing a record of interests in land (e.g. rights, restrictions and responsibilities). It usually includes a geometric description of land parcels linked to other records describing the nature of the interests, the ownership or control of those interests, and often the value of the parcel and its improvements. It may be established for fiscal purposes (e.g. valuation and equitable taxation), legal purposes (conveyancing), to assist in the management of land and land use (e.g. for planning and other administrative purposes), and enable sustainable development and environmental protection.

Keynote Speakers

Professionals give information about cadastral life, world's cadastre, and cadastral vision in the plenary sessions. Some renowned speakers about Land Management are visualized below.

John McLaughlin
Canada

Professor (emer.)
University of New Brunswick

Professor of Engineering and President Emeritus at the University of New Brunswick, Canada. He served as Chair of the Department of Surveying Engineering, Vice-President and was the University's 17th President and Vice-Chancellor. John introduced and developed the first land administration program at a North American university and the first program in land information management to be taught anywhere in the world. He has been a leader in building the North American Geomatics industry and has worked extensively overseas, in more than 40 countries, on the development of property systems with the World Bank, UNDP, and other international agencies.

Chryssy Potsiou

FIG WORKING WEEK 17–21 MAY SOFIA BULGARIA

The International Federation of Surveyors invites you to the main conference within the surveying field in 2015 with the overall theme “From the Wisdom of the Ages to the Challenges of the Modern World”.

FIG Working Week 2015 is an exciting opportunity for members of the surveying profession to:

- network with international peers from 90–100 countries
- reflect and combine surveying fields such as: measure, position, map, locate, appraise and value, estimate and cost, plan, construct and develop, and manage land, the seas and any structures thereof
- get the latest developments in surveying, both academically and in practice
- get new inspiration for your daily work.

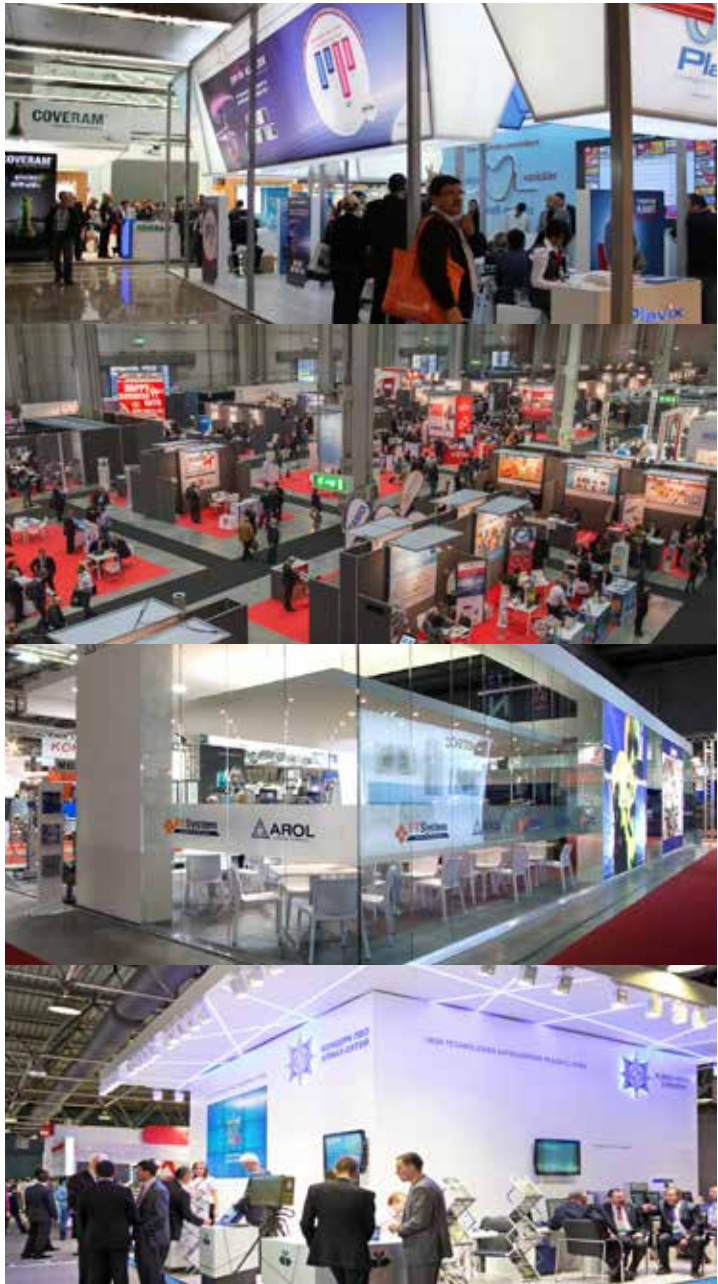

We hope to see you at FIG Working Week 2015 in Sofia, Bulgaria.

Organised by:

TIME TUNNEL OF SURVEYING TECHNOLOGY...!

Exhibition

As an exhibitor you will promote your company, organization or countries products and services over five days to global cadastral people and land-decision-makers from up to 130 different countries. Our exhibitors will include Surveying, Geomatics, GIS, GPS, Remote Sensing etc technology, utilities, consultants, knowledge and research institutes, government and non-government organizations and the media. There will also be a number of country pavilions.

As a sponsor you will present your country, company or organization as a major international cadastral player. Sponsors will receive maximum exposure before, during and after the summit and be given full VIP treatment at technical, social and business networking events.

Institutions/Organizations that would like to open an exhibition site on the lounge area of the Congress Center can send e-mail to info@wcadastre.org

An exhibition area will be formed in the congress center, containing 70x100 cm canvas printed paintings for the Cadastre in Turkey from Ottoman to Today exhibition. A 65-pages Introductory Booklet will be distributed for the promotion of the exhibition.

An exhibition area will be formed for Land Registry and Cadastre Martyrs. A 70-pages Land Registry and Cadastre Martyrs Introductory Booklet will be distributed for the promotion of the exhibition.

Congress Venue

The congress, summit meetings, primary plenary, technical and business meeting sessions will be held in the Haliç (Golden Horn) Sutluce Congress Center in Istanbul, Turkey.

All concurrent sessions, exhibits, breaks and lunches will be held in the same place. The Haliç Congress Center has wireless Internet access to which conference participants will be able to link.

Estuary Culture and Congress Centre, Turkey's largest and most modern convention and cultural center is the distinction. Established in an area of approximately 65 thousand square meters of the center, 88 thousand square meters of construction area. In the center, three-thousand-seat concert hall, 1120 seat theater, 900 person capacity and 14 study rooms for three cinema halls are located. Also, 650 seat restaurant, seven thousand seven hundred square meters of outdoor space was built. 8 thousand 250 square meters of construction area with a dock in the center, with 700 car parking spaces is 17 thousand square meters of green space.

Imagine a meeting venue by the sea where urban sounds mingle with the cries of gulls and waves lapping against the shores of the Haliç Congress Center; an unforgettable scenic location where you can take a break from the chaotic city without actually having to leave it.

The Center's unique setting along the banks of the Haliç, also known as 'the Golden Horn' presents an unforgettably panoramic and spectacular view of historic İstanbul. As one of the few venues in the world where indoor, outdoor and waterfront events can be held simultaneously, the Haliç Congress Center stands out with its low-slung architecture.

Turkey: the cradle of cultures and civilizations connecting Europe and Asia and capital of civilizations that have reined the lands of Anatolia for centuries

Since the beginning of history, Anatolia, well known as one of the earliest settlements, has continued to flourish with the migration of various tribes, and accumulated a large cultural heritage through a line of succeeding empires and civilizations. Many empires ranging from the Sumerians to the Hittites, the Lydians to the Byzantines and the Seljuks to the Ottomans have once thrived and expired within the borders of Turkey.

One may encounter different climate zones in different areas of Turkey which is comprised of seven geographical regions and experience various climates in one day!

Turkey is much the same as an open air museum thanks to its magnificent heritage comprised of historical and cultural monuments and sites built everywhere in Anatolia since the ancient times. With the establishment of Çatalhöyük, the first proto-city settlement of the Neolithic Age, history began to leave its marks discernible today even in the tiniest structures.

Located at the mid-point of the European, Asian and African continents, Turkey has a varied geography rich in mountains, plains, caves, seas and many other natural formations and beauties. All types of sports activities and more specifically outdoor sports can be done amidst a breathtaking nature providing both for adrenaline and entertainment.

The hub of all religions that have been lost in time or still exist, Anatolia is particularly rich in monuments and heritages bearing traces of diverse religious cultures. According to Christianity, for instance, pilgrims travelling the route of the seven holy churches including Ephesus, Izmir, Bergama, Salihi, Alasehir, Denizli and Akhisar are considered to have fulfilled their duty of pilgrimage.

One of the most precious and diverse treasures of Turkey is, of course, the Turkish cuisine. The variety offered by this magnificent heritage of flavors which evolved over the centuries with the blending of the culinary cultures of many communities and civilizations is limitless. Thousands of unique delicacies and specialties ranging from meat dishes to cold dishes with olive oil, from sorbets to spices are waiting to be served to guests from all over the world.

Entertaining and lively folk dances and songs, which originated from the combination of the local culture with music and dance, provide for unique local entertainment in every province you visit.

Worldwide famous cruise ships visit the major ports of Turkey on their route. Passengers of these cruise ships have the opportunity to visit and explore the port and city centre of Istanbul, Izmir and Kusadasi. Ferries between Cyprus and Mersin and between Bodrum, Marmaris and the Greek islands provide for other alternatives to get to Turkey from other lands.

Turkey, well known particularly for its hospitality and friendliness, welcomes its visitors any time of the year offering a spectacular countryside and unique monuments all over the land! You may already enjoy your vacation in Turkey!

Istanbul in Brief

Turkey is a rapidly developing secular democracy with a population of nearly 70 million and is a candidate for membership of the European Union. It is the only country to straddle Europe and Asia, a fact that is reflected in its complex cultural make up. Asiatic Turkey, or Anatolia, constitutes the bulk of the country. It consists of a vast peninsula framed by four seas, the Black Sea, the Sea of Marmara, the Aegean and the Mediterranean, each of which has its own distinctive character.

Istanbul in Numbers:

Surface Area: 5.512 km
Population : 15.000.000
(approximately)

Istanbul today is the focal point of industry, commerce and cultural life in Turkey. It has many internationally acclaimed hotels, congress centers and offers state-of-the-art meeting facilities. The city is connected to the world by two international airports, international harbours, railways and Trans-European-Motorway.

When combined with the city's fabulous history and stunning natural beauty, cultural richness, exciting shopping, sophisticated cultural life and world-class dining, it's not hard to figure out why top associations choose Istanbul and enjoy exceptionally high attendance.

Delegates can enjoy luxurious, comfortable and affordable accommodations and Istanbul's 3500 years of history as well as attending a high quality and productive meeting planned precisely from the plenary session to the closing ceremonies in facilities equipped with the latest technology.

Currency: The monetary unit is the Turkish lira (TL), which comes in bank notes of 5, 10, 20, 50, 100 and 200. In Istanbul, traveler checks are rarely accepted. ATMs can be found in even the smallest Turkish towns. Most international credit cards or bank cards are accepted.

Fine & Dine: The Turkish cuisine, which is one of the richest in the world, appeals to the eye as well as to the taste. Turkish food that is found today in Istanbul is truly a living synthesis of Eastern and Western. In addition to the many restaurants that serve traditional and international menus to satisfy the varied tastes of their guests, many nightclubs, cafes and bars offer fine menus along with a wide range of entertainment choices.

Working Hours & Holidays: Banks are open weekdays from 9 AM until noon and from 1 PM to 5 PM in the afternoon. Museums are generally open Tuesday through Sunday from 9 AM to 5 PM and closed on Monday.

Electricity: The electrical current in Turkey is 220 volts, 50 cycles alternating current (AC); wall outlets take Continental-type plugs, with two round prongs.

Weight & Measures: Turkey uses the metric system for weight and measures.

Driving License : Most international driver's licenses are recognized in Turkey. Car rental companies require for a valid national or international license.

VAT The value-added tax, here called KDV is almost always included in quoted prices. Certain shops are authorized to refund the tax (ask).
